Color Story®

When I began combining two or more colored gemstones together in 1997, I saw the results were cool, warm and hot looks. Every time I offered a new design in several color combinations, each looked so different that I had a hard time deciding which was my favorite. I began to give these combinations names, such as "Tropicana" for Blue Topaz and Peridot or "Midnight Sun" for Garnet and Citrine. These names told a story and so I named the brand Color Story.

Our customer is every woman of any age with the confidence to express herself. She is a little more of a risk taker. Wearing color speaks more clearly about her personality than white diamond jewelry. A woman in colored stone jewelry reveals her inner self. It says she is in touch with her feelings and can express them. All of my gemstone collections Park Avenue, Strand, Rhapsody, Manhattan, Jewelmesh, Lexington and Navette offer fashionable yet classic designs that all generations have found appealing.

The wonderful thing about working with color is exciting new combinations come together every season and make it fun to design new pieces. I draw inspiration from my children, from nature, from architecture... there is nothing that doesn't give a hint that it could be something else – even perhaps jewelry.
